

HALFWAY REACH

FORMER BARKING POWER STATION & OUTFALL DECOMMISSIONING AND DREDGING OPERATIONS

On or about Monday 24th July 2023, marine contractors working on behalf of City of London Corporation will commence works to decommission the former Barking Power Station and Outfall in Halfway Reach.

These works include; removal of the existing outfall structure (inclusive of the cardinal mark and lights), dredging operations, decommissioning of the intake/outfall tunnels and diving operations which will take place using a variety of barges including crane barges, supply barges, Multi-Cats, tugs and work boats and expected to take approximately 4 months. Usual operational hours are Monday to Friday during the hours of 07:30 to 17:30.

An area of 'works in progress' will be established around the site for the duration of the works as indicated on the chartlet below.
